What was your vision for this project?

My vision is for this development to be the most respected and sought-after residential address in Mumbai for a long time to come. My goal is to offer unparalleled and truly inspired living spaces and services to a select group of families. It will be a privilege well deserved by those who are redefining the times in which we live.

Life at these residences will be seamless. In today's hectic world, successful people lack only one thing: time. Every need will be taken care of by Four Seasons, without residents even knowing it's happening. Dare I say, people will be spoilt at home.

This will be a place where people can enjoy all the activities and rituals to which they are accustomed in an art-filled environment. It will redefine their perception of everyday luxury. I have painstakingly taken a personal interest in each and every detail of this tower. The fact that it will be my family home, where my wife and I will raise our children, makes it that much more special to me.

What are the USPs of Four Seasons Private Residences Mumbai?

There are a lot of very large developments in Mumbai. Most of the city's high-rise developments accommodate at least 80-100 families – even up to 300 or 400. The concept of building a property that soars fifty-five storeys yet contains only twenty-six residences, is in itself highly unique. There is no other high-rise property in Mumbai that belongs to such a small number of residents. It goes without saying that this approach will make the property highly exclusive. But it will also allow for a lifestyle reminiscent of the landed residential tradition.

We embarked upon this project with the goal of embodying the advantages of bungalow living in a high-rise tower, so families accustomed to large private living and garden spaces – with a certain level of individuality, privacy, and customised service – would also benefit from better views, access to well-appointed amenities, and the assurance of Four Seasons standard of services in the comfort of their own homes.

What are the critical factors that a buyer should consider before choosing a premium luxury property?

Provenance Land believes in understated luxury – things that have been carefully and thoughtfully handcrafted, things of flawless quality, things of scarcity and timeless character. When I think of luxury, these are the things that come to my mind. ☺
